Dear Mr. Greiz,

Thank you very much for your letter of December 6, 1997, in which you informed me about the project you plan to carry out in 1999.

The mission of the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement is to help the most vulnerable victims of natural and man-made disasters and armed conflicts.

In aiming to draw the attention of the world to a particular group of people, i.e. the handicapped, you and your team are also addressing the problem of vulnerability. Many handicapped persons need daily help. However one of the most important things we can do is to treat them as ordinary human beings.

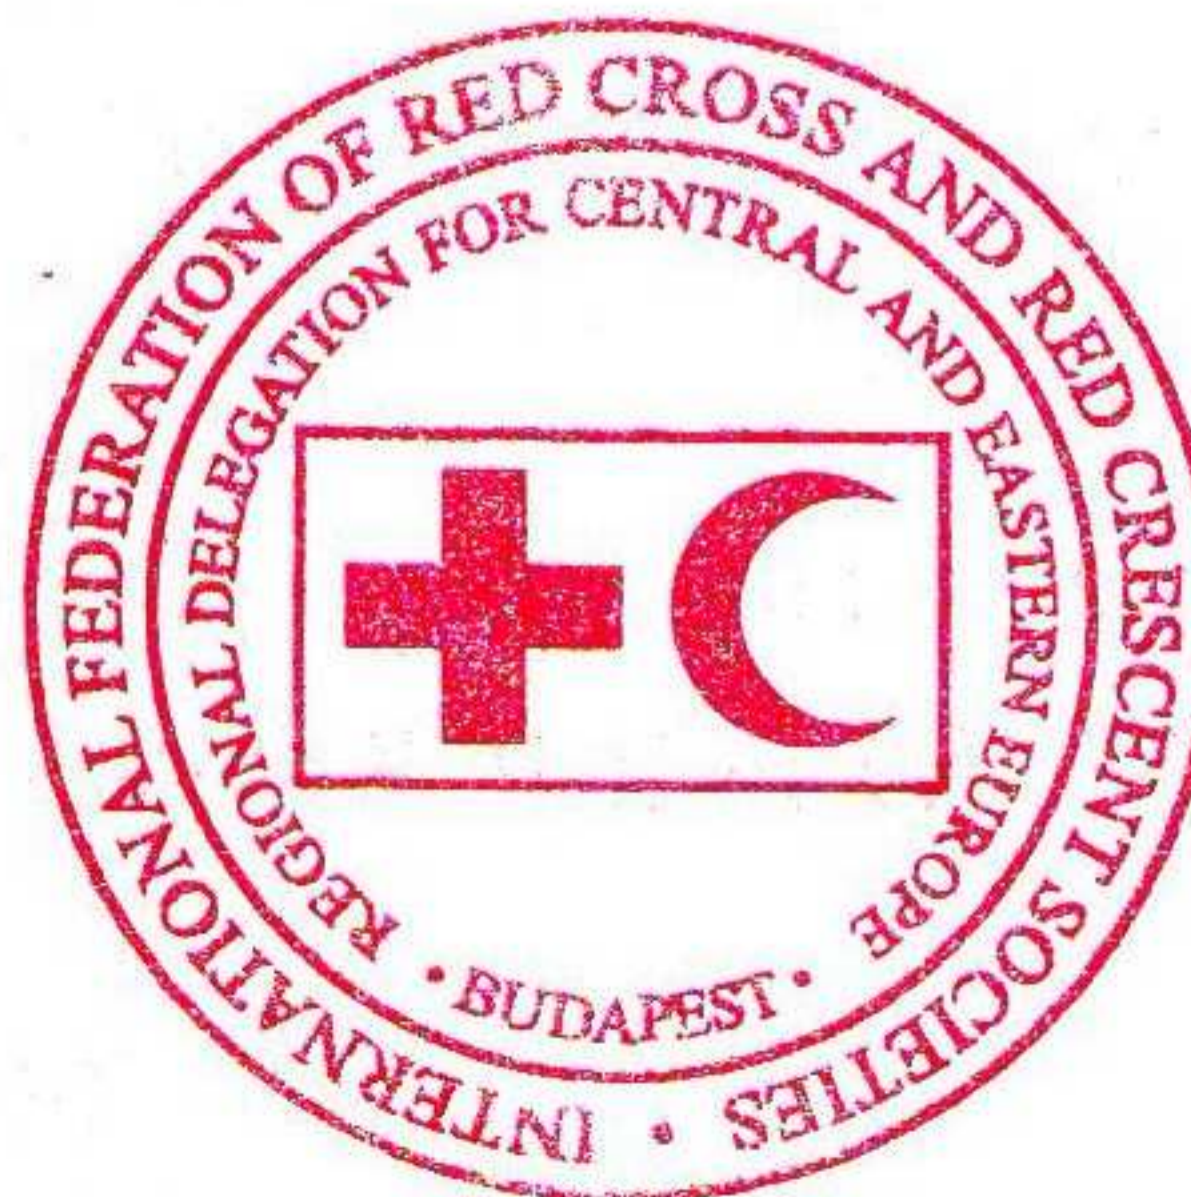

The International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies considers it very important to disseminate a healthy way of living. This includes the entire rejection of drugs.

I would like to encourage you all, organizers and participants, to proceed with your efforts to bring this outstanding initiative to reality and success.

I wish you much strength for this.

Sincerely yours,

Encho Gospodinov
